

SAMPLE WORKSHOPS

Fundamentals of Teaching Drama to 2- to 3-Year-Olds

This interactive workshop focuses on high sensory activities, active storytelling, and the beginnings of creative play. Participants learn how to connect the five senses to storytelling, creatively explore the concept of props with literature, and guide play through active modeling and side coaching.

Cultivating Creativity in Pre-K to 3rd Grade Students with Theatre and Guided Play

See how creativity and imagination can foster empathy, problem solving, originality, and flexibility skills in your classroom. Learn how to create lesson plans that bring picture books to life, incorporate creative drama, and help young children meet developmentally appropriate educational goals.

Learning Through Theatre Workshop Series: K-12th Grade Teachers (ages 5-18)

Are you looking for new and creative ways to make interdisciplinary connections that students will find engaging? In this interactive workshop, teachers explore theatre techniques such as movement, character development, storytelling, and playwriting. Teachers discover connections to literacy, science, social studies, critical thinking, and creative thinking skills through an arts-integrated approach.

Sharing Stories: Middle/High School Teachers (ages 12-18)

This workshop teaches culturally-based, trauma-informed theatre and arts activities as a way to build community while providing a safe space for youth to share their stories. Learn the techniques for using theatre as a tool for creating a safe space in your classroom, as a vehicle to share stories, and how it can promote language development.
