Director's Note/About the Director

We are so thrilled to bring The Very Hungry Caterpillar Show back to Imagination Stage. Much has happened in the world since our 2019 production, including the birth of a whole new generation of children who love the books of Eric Carle. I read these books to my own children and I know that they will soon be reading them to their children. These nature-themed stories--a particular interest shared with young children--are timeless and offer an opportunity for the whole family to enjoy a live experience together. How magical to sit in the darkened theatre with your child and watch the characters on the page, beautifully brought to life right before their very eyes, with these extraordinary puppets!

We welcome you and your family to this unique communal experience where we can all recite in unison, "And he was still hungry!"

Kathryn Chase Bryer (Director) is the Associate Artistic Director of Imagination Stage, where she has directed more than 50 productions in the last 30 years.
